1.2 Why choose Cambridge O Level?

Cambridge O Levels have been designed for an international audience and are sensitive to the needs of different countries. These qualifications are designed for learners whose first language may not be English and this is acknowledged throughout the examination process. The Cambridge O Level syllabus also allows teaching to be placed in a localised context, making it relevant in varying regions.

Our aim is to balance knowledge, understanding and skills in our programmes and qualifications to enable students to become effective learners and to provide a solid foundation for their continuing educational journey.

Through our professional development courses and our support materials for Cambridge O Levels, we provide the tools to enable teachers to prepare learners to the best of their ability and work with us in the pursuit of excellence in education.

Cambridge O Levels are considered to be an excellent preparation for Cambridge International AS and A Levels, the Cambridge AICE (Advanced International Certificate of Education) Group Award, Cambridge Pre-U, and other education programmes, such as the US Advanced Placement program and the International Baccalaureate Diploma programme. Learn more about Cambridge O Levels at www.cie.org.uk/cambridgesecundary2

Guided learning hours

Cambridge O Level syllabuses are designed on the assumption that learners have about 130 guided learning hours per subject over the duration of the course, but this is for guidance only. The number of hours required to gain the qualification may vary according to local curricular practice and the learners' prior experience of the subject.

1.3 Why choose Cambridge O Level English Language?

Cambridge O Levels are established qualifications that keep pace with educational developments and trends. The Cambridge O Level curriculum places emphasis on broad and balanced study across a wide range of subject areas. The curriculum is structured so that candidates attain both practical skills and theoretical knowledge.

Cambridge O Level English Language is accepted by universities and employers as proof of linguistic ability and understanding. The Cambridge O Level English Language syllabus encourages candidates to develop lifelong skills, including:

- The ability to communicate clearly, accurately and effectively.
- The use of a wide range of vocabulary and correct grammar, spelling and punctuation.
- A personal style and an awareness of the audience being addressed.

Candidates are also encouraged to read widely, both for their own enjoyment and to further their awareness of the ways in which English can be used. Cambridge O Level English Language study also develops more general analysis and communication skills such as synthesis, inference, and the ability to order facts and present opinions effectively.

Candidates may also study for a Cambridge O Level in Literature in English. In addition to Cambridge O Levels, Cambridge also offers Cambridge IGCSE and Cambridge International AS and A Levels for further study in English as well as other languages. See www.cie.org.uk for a full list of the qualifications you can take.

Prior learning

We recommend that candidates who are beginning this course should have sufficient competence in English to be able to achieve a level of English equivalent to First Language competence during the course.

Progression

Cambridge O Levels are general qualifications that enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Candidates who are awarded at least a grade C in Cambridge O Level English Language are well prepared to follow courses leading to Cambridge International AS Level English Language, or the equivalent.

5. Description of components

5.1 Paper 1: Reading and Directed Writing

Paper 1 consists of two parts:

- Part 1 will consist of a prose extract followed by six multiple-choice questions which will test the candidates' understanding of the main points of the structure and the argument, and four open-ended questions which will test other aspects of the extract, such as the use of language and the author's attitude towards the subject matter.
- Part 2 Candidates will be asked to respond to a second passage in a variety of ways, for example a selective summary, a letter, a report, a speech, a script of a conversation or broadcast, a continuation of a story, an expressive development of an idea in the passage, etc. Two tasks will be set, one of which may be subdivided.

The two set passages will usually be of a different nature: one may be informative or argumentative while the other may be from a literary source.

5.2 Paper 2: Continuous Writing

Paper 2: This paper tests continuous writing skills. A selection of nine titles are provided and call for an imaginative, narrative or argumentative response in an appropriate style. Candidates choose one assignment and write 350–500 words.

For information on the Grade Descriptions for Continuous Writing see section 6.

5.3 Paper 3: Oral

Paper 3 consists of a Reading Aloud Passage and a Conversation based on a given topic.

- Candidates read aloud a passage.
- Candidates are given three discussion points to help them develop a conversation with the Examiner.

Specimen papers are available. The Oral mark is part of the final mark for the subject.

6. Marking band descriptors

Marking band descriptors for the assessment of continuous writing

Band 3: 34–40 marks

Content arouses some interest and is structured throughout. Language is grammatically mainly accurate.

- Candidate uses a range of punctuation to separate sentences and to define meaning, mainly accurately; spelling generally accurate.
- A range of appropriate vocabulary with some well-used words.
- Coherent paragraphs with occasional links.
- Sentence structures that are fairly simple, but varied.

Band 4: 27–33 marks

Parts of the writing suggest some originality and clear beginnings and endings are provided. Language maintains grammatical accuracy for a few lines at a time, though this is not consistent.

- Less consistent accuracy of sentence separation/punctuation, and/or spelling.
- Adequate vocabulary, often without precision.
- Use of paragraphs, but occasionally lacking in coherence.
- Sentence structures which are mainly correct, occasionally varied.

Band 5: 20–26 marks

Content is simple and may be recognisably derivative and structurally inconsistent. Gist can be followed, but error and linguistic limitations affect precise understanding of detail.

- Numerous errors of sentence separation/punctuation, and/or spelling.
- Limited and plain vocabulary.
- Haphazard use of paragraphs.
- Simple sentence structures, sometimes inaccurate.

Band 6: 13–19 marks

Content is basic, perhaps meagre or only partly relevant, and hard to follow. Structure is unsound. Error, particularly of grammar, leads to blurring and difficulties for the reader.

- For the most part, faulty punctuation and spelling.
- Very simple and sometimes inaccurate vocabulary.
- Paragraphs rarely or wrongly used.
- Limited understanding of writing in sentences.

Band 7: 6–12 marks

Content and structure are full of confusion and inconsistencies. Meaning can barely be deciphered and sentences need rewriting.

- Random use of punctuation marks and wrong spelling (except for simplest words).
- Very simple and often inappropriate vocabulary.
- In general, no paragraphing.
- The occasional accurate sentence.

Below Band 7: 0–5 marks

Reserved for scripts which cannot be followed except for rare examples of relative clarity, or where the reader is aware that the writing has some relevance to the topic. Otherwise there is extreme blurring of meaning throughout. No judgements can be made on specific aspects of the writing. 0 given only where nothing has been written or where the work is in a language other than English.

Equality and inclusion

Cambridge International Examinations has taken great care in the preparation of this syllabus and assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind. To comply with the UK Equality Act (2010), Cambridge has designed this qualification with the aim of avoiding direct and indirect discrimination.

The standard assessment arrangements may present unnecessary barriers for candidates with disabilities or learning difficulties. Arrangements can be put in place for these candidates to enable them to access the assessments and receive recognition of their attainment. Access arrangements will not be agreed if they give candidates an unfair advantage over others or if they compromise the standards being assessed.

Candidates who are unable to access the assessment of any component may be eligible to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

Information on access arrangements is found in the Cambridge Handbook which can be downloaded from the website www.cie.org.uk/examsOfficers

Language

This syllabus and the associated assessment materials are available in English only.

Grading and reporting

Cambridge O Level results are shown by one of the grades A*, A, B, C, D or E, indicating the standard achieved, A* being the highest and E the lowest. 'Ungraded' indicates that the candidate's performance fell short of the standard required for grade E. 'Ungraded' will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. The letters Q (result pending), X (no results) and Y (to be issued) may also appear on the statement of results but not on the certificate.

Entry codes

To maintain the security of our examinations, we produce question papers for different areas of the world, known as 'administrative zones'. Where the component entry code has two digits, the first digit is the component number given in the syllabus. The second digit is the location code, specific to an administrative zone. Information about entry codes can be found in the Cambridge Guide to Making Entries.
